Haoma Mining Shareholder Update

Cyclone Blake provides more than a year's supply of water to Haoma Mining's Bamboo Creek operations after crossing WA's Pilbara coast

In some good news this week, Cyclone Blake crossed the Pilbara coast in Western Australia and provided more than a year's supply of water to the Haoma Mining operations at Bamboo Creek. Stunning videos show over-flowing creeks filling the previously mined Kitchener Open-Cut Pit storing much needed water for processing Bamboo Creek gold bearing ore. The rains in WA are welcomed by the local mining industry located in the normally hot and dry region of the Pilbara. Haoma's 'team' returning this week at Bamboo Creek have provided some incredible videos and photos of the flooding rains brought by Cyclone Blake, which can be viewed at the following link.
